BT45 XS

The dialogue between the dark front, seen here in Ceramic Basalt Gray effect, and genuine black leather produce an atmosphere reminiscent of a chic bar - particularly, the automated roller shutter "climber" at the bar and pocket door system which houses the BT45 coffee serving base unit. The Mile oven, coffee machine, and backlit shelf element perfectly underscore this impression just as the seamless island that emphasizes the horizontal axis with deliberately chosen Basalt Gray worktop adds character, reinforcing the solid look. The finely marbled and genuine black leather surface presents a tone of exclusivity and quality. Of course, BT45 accessories complete the kitchen! The internal drawers preserve the calm look of the front panel architecture. The light-footed cooking counter and PITT cooktop with its ceramic worktop provide the perfect workstation for gourmands with the penchant for things that are different.

Monolithic and absolutely sublime – this generously sized kitchen block in Nero Marquina marble with its straight size defines the room in a timeless manner. It is a clear statement for a kitchen that becomes a workshop for every aspect of indulgence and enjoyment. The arrangement provides numerous benefits for professional chefs. This intelligent pocket door system which is used as storage for small cooking appliances is a particularly practical to keep items from view while the legendary glass roller shutter “Climber”, full size fridge and freezer units all combine and arranged perfectly, creating a freestanding Beton wall. A natural style gray concrete front appears to have been hewn from a single block – add to this the perfectly tailored complete inserts for drawers and pull-outs and now you’re cooking with friends.

BT45 G+

The elegant graining of the M+L Smoked French Oak veneer with its aesthetic appeal which, although understated, still makes a clear statement and turns this BT45 kitchen into a piece that is nothing short of exceptional. The contrast of White Quartzite and smoked glass doors with brushed stainless-steel frame lends memorable impact with its intentional contrast. Continuing this theme, the minimalist cooking table and hidden cooktop play a central part in the kitchen's architecture. Matching it, the 45-degree mitered edge panel, front and counter system combine function and flatters the kitchen. The base units, with their extra low plinth of only 2 cm, as well as the interior drawers with integrated lighting compliment the kitchen uniformly.

BT45 PH

The original charm of a kitchen, the feeling of coming home, the sense of refuge and the scent of tasty meals – the best place to experience all this is in a kitchen built with Premium American Walnut – the aura of this Premium, soft, warm wood and its resinous fragrance creates a natural primitiveness with its own very special homely charm. Virtually no other surface finish symbolizes such perfection and is perceived as being so representative. It is instinctively in combination and attractively contrasts with the natural roughness and perfection of island crafted flawlessly with 45 degree edges in Carrara marble. The full effect of natural mood and a calming room climate unfolds in a spaciousness matching the modern alpine architecture which attaches greater value to natural materials. The architecture of the kitchen is also impressive, reduced to just a handful of elements. The freestanding cooking island in front of a row of tall units with panels that blend harmoniously with the wall.
